"Jozefa Fawcett: Knowledge Management facilitator; leading UK networker in making National Health Service more emotionally intelligent for teamwork & humanly rewarding. She 'Open Spaces' for critical intangibles of the NHS that cannot be financially mapped. With contextual benchmarking she interconnects stakeholder trust & renews social/human capitals vital to this national & regional institution"

"I enjoyed working with Józefa enormously. Her enthusiasm and positive approach made her ideal to facilitate the early stages of planning a national implementation guide. This guide is designed for HR and Training and Development Directors and Managers to assist with the implementation of NHSU's corporate NHS induction programme, 'Introduction to today's NHS'. Józefa was invaluable in generously sharing her own working models as well as her vast experience, which helped shape our thinking."

"Józefa, I can't thank you enough for all the work you've done in developing the Business Plan for the Knowledge Management Centre/Learndirect eLearning Centre, it was really great and very much appreciated. I have sent it off to the NHS Hub along with the Equal Opportunities Statement you developed so as to release further funding support available for AY 2004/2005. Once again many, many thanks."

"Once again thank you for chairing the 'Shared Services for HR Think Tank' in October 2002, you will find below a copy of the feedback we received from delegates regarding your role in the event which may be of interest to you.

- Kept to time, very clear and facilitated one to one discussions with speakers.
- Kept the day on track.
- Extremely effective. Very well time managed.
- Very focused introduction.
- By the end of the event I would say Józefa did an excellent job overall of chairing, time keeping, networking and retaining focus.
- Good engaging start."
